A little introduction

I'm an experienced & full-time, professional wedding photographer based in the North East on the North Yorkshire & Durham borders.

However, I love a little adventure & will happily travel to your little or lavish, shindig or soirée wherever your wedding celebrations may be.

I find I'm most hired by couples who inform me they really want to enjoy their wedding with family & friends. Rather than couples looking for an over posed photo shoot style wedding.

This is ideal for me & you as natural & emotive wedding photography is so much more my style: quiet, relaxed & unobtrusive.

With just a little of your time we can also create some iconic images of your wedding.

I loathe small print & hidden extras so I try to show options & prices clearly & honestly.

The headlines:

Bespoke service at no extra charge,

Albums by world leading suppliers,

Comprehensive album packages with digital images included,

Coverage often up to 21:00, included,

Digital image packages from £695,

Video coverage available*,

Small deposit secures your day,

Pre-wedding shot (worth £175) included with 8+ hour packages,

Promotions & offers just ask*,

Call or email to check availability.

Keeping it real.

With a documentary style or as the French would say reportage, the odd bucket and spade or cargo pant wearing person will wander in to my anticipated shot.

This was possibly my toughest edit; I'm a photographer, not a Photoshop guru. The moment was real and unscripted it happened just as you see it. I knew the couple wanted a shot of the sea and cliffs. I saw this scene and thought it had more character than the average backdrop.

So... I asked them to walk on as I had to change my lens and I'd catch them up... I fibbed; I was waiting to see what they'd do in front of my backdrop.. they kissed. I could have removed the For Sale sign; though I thought it made a nice place to be a little creative. TBH it's mainly Fire Exit signs I remove, I don't like to see them in wedding albums.

The Pre Wedding Shoot

A pre-wedding shoot (PWS) – worth £175 - usually, 2 months prior to your wedding day. Available, for free, with any full day package, maybe with discussion for other packages too.

Why? Because so many couples state they dislike having their photo taken. It's an ideal way to experience how natural, relaxed & stress free: fun having your photo taken should be. You can use images from your PWS, as you choose, to create a Guest Signing Book or Frame etc.

You don't have to do the PWS, though after their wedding couples often mention how glad they were that they did. Many also say that, on their wedding day, they hardly realised I was there. Which I think is because they know what to expect & are relaxed about their photos.

Print ready, high quality, digital images.

The key technical details you'll want to know are:

24mp, 6000x4000px, 300dpi, sRGB, 100% JPG quality & format.

Your wedding digital images are the same quality as I use to print in my wedding albums.

You'll also receive a duplicate set of images sized and ready for internet use: social media, email and to share with your wedding suppliers, these look like the images on my website.

I supply your digital images via download as many devices don't have USB ports anymore. If I'm unavailable for your wedding, ensure your photographers images are to those specifications, and you should be fine, though high quality printing is another issue.

Couples jetting off for a destination wedding are particularly vulnerable to, quality, issues. Though you now have information, prior to flying out, that you can have your destination wedding photographer confirm to you in writing.

If you're planning a wedding party on your return, give me a call I cover those too.

If you'd like to know more, give me a call.

Natural light is fabulous and can create subtle soft shadows that give depth and feel to a photo. Both of the images on this page were taken in natural light.

Sometimes however we want to create a little bit more, something dramatic or just very creative & great on a wall.

That is when we get a little bit technical, as I did with the photo opposite.

Paul also says, Relax, you're in safe hands.

Here's how a full day wedding assignment with albums regularly progresses:

- Check your wedding date is available; most weddings booked 24-12 months prior.
- We meet, discuss your wedding plans, view some albums & presentation options.
- A small booking fee reserves your wedding day, exclusively for you.
- 2 Months prior to your wedding we finalise your details / meet for a pre-shoot (PWS)
- Balance to be paid four weeks prior to your wedding day.
- WEDDING DAY - real, natural & happy photos.
- You're on honeymoon - I'm designing your digital proof album / processing your images.
- In about 4 weeks, your proof album and web sized digital images available online
- Password protected online gallery for you and your friends to view your photos.
- Your album is usually ready 4 weeks after you OK it to be printed.

BESPOKE, I can't say this enough: at no extra charge

I'd love to hear your wedding plans, call me & lets confirm my availability
